K'ka CM backs NEET protests, says issue is about students

Bengaluru (TSIT):

Karnataka Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar on Thursday voiced support for student protests over the alleged NEET question paper leak controversy, stating that the issue transcends politics and concerns the future of the country's youth.

Addressing reporters in

said India is at a critical juncture, and students are facing uncertainty amid repeated allegations of examination paper leaks. He remarked that the Prime Minister had spoken on the issue but should have addressed it earlier.

"Today, the country is at a crossroads. Students and youngsters are in a dilemma. There have been more than 100 instances of question paper leaks. The Prime Minister has spoken on the issue today, but he should have spoken at the very beginning," he said.

Emphasising that the matter should not be politicised, the Chief Minister said India's students are globally recognised for their talent and serve as ambassadors of the nation. He added that every government has a duty to ensure transparent examinations and provide quality education.

Responding to demands for Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan's resignation, Shivakumar said there should be no attempt to shield anyone. "There is no question of safeguarding anyone.

where Congress workers gathered in large numbers. Several Opposition leaders had assembled at the residence around 6 pm before the march to Gandhi Smriti.

The MPs travelling on the bus include John Brittas (CPI(M)), K C Venugopal (Congress), Manoj Kumar Jha (RJD), Priyanka Gandhi Vadra (Congress), Misa Bharti (RJD), Pramod Tiwari (Congress), and Amrinder Singh Raja Warring (Congress), among others. Rahul Gandhi avoided Lok Sabha debate on NEET: R. Ashoka

Bengaluru, July 23 (TSIT): Karnataka Leader of Opposition R. Ashoka on Thursday accused Congress leader Rahul Gandhi of avoiding a discussion in the Lok Sabha on the alleged NEET examination irregularities and alleged that the Congress was attempting to politicise the issue instead of seeking constructive solutions.

Addressing reporters, Ashoka claimed that Rahul Gandhi should have participated in the parliamentary debate and presented the facts before the nation. He alleged that the Congress was creating confusion over the issue for political gain while the Centre had already ordered a CBI probe into the alleged irregularities.

The BJP leader said the Union Government had acted promptly by ordering an investigation, arresting those allegedly involved and conducting re-examinations wherever required to safeguard students' interests. He also highlighted the expansion of medical education under the Narendra Modi government, stating that MBBS seats had increased significantly along with the number of postgraduate seats and medical colleges across the country.

Criticising the Karnataka Government, Ashoka alleged that the Congress had failed to address issues related to recruitment, examinations and the functioning of the Karnataka Public Service Commission (KPSC). He claimed repeated errors in KPSC examinations had caused hardship to aspirants and questioned the government's handling of recruitment and youth welfare.

Referring to the stampede during the Royal Challengers Bengaluru (RCB) victory celebrations, Ashoka criticised the State Government over the deaths of 11 people and alleged that no political accountability had been fixed. He also accused the Congress government of using force against unemployed youth during protests and questioned its moral authority to criticise the Centre over the NEET issue.

Ashoka further alleged that police had adopted a biased approach in dealing with political protests and sought impartial action in cases involving attacks on BJP leaders.

Aqua farmer relief: fishmeal now colouration and unified, now time to unify feed why only 3 feed companies are BAP 4 certified.

Andhra Pradesh: The Indian Marine Ingredients Association (IMIA) announced an important step towards strengthening the sustainability and global competitiveness of India's marine ingredients sector through the integration of the Karnataka State Fishery Improvement Project (FIP) into IMIA's broader national initiative. In the presence of industry leaders, association representatives, and stakeholders from various states.

IMIA, the national representative body of the Indian marine ingredients industry, has been actively promoting the sustainable development of the fishmeal and fish oil (FMFO) sector through responsible sourcing, improved resource utilization, scientific management, and stakeholder collaboration.

The marine ingredients sector plays a vital role in the national economy while supporting the livelihoods of thousands of fishers and workers across the fisheries value chain. The industry utilizes low-value, short-lived, naturally abundant pelagic fish species, along with fish processing by-products, unavoidable bycatch, and post-harvest losses, thereby contributing to efficient resource use and the principles of the circular economy.

Recognizing the need for a unified national approach towards fisheries sustainability, IMIA has been advocating the concept of "One India - One Fishery Improvement Project (FIP)". A harmonized national FIP framework will strengthen India's credibility in international markets, improve access to sustainability-focused buyers, reduce duplication of efforts, and build a coordinated pathway for responsible fisheries management across the country.

Oil prices hit $100 a barrel for the first time since May as the escalating conflict in the Middle East reignited fears over global energy supplies. Brent crude - the global benchmark for oil prices - rose more than 6% on Thursday following several days of increases as the US stepped up military strikes against Iran. Prices spiked after Houthi militia in Yemen attacked oil tankers in the Red Sea, threatening a key export route that Saudi Arabia has used to bypass the Strait of Hormuz. Gas prices have also risen steadily over the past month, with the benchmark UK gas price currently at around 150 p per therm, up from around 98p at the end of June. Oil prices had been falling following a temporary ceasefire between the US and Iran. They dropped back to levels last seen before the US and Israel began military action against Iran on 28 February. However, the portation costs to customers. Inflation rates have fallen in the UK and US, but questions remain whether the slow down will prove short-lived due to the renewed conflict in the Middle East. UK petrol prices have risen by 5p a litre in the space of two-and-a-half weeks to hit almost £1.56. Diesel is at £1.72 a litre, on average, according to the RAC. Average gasoline prices in the US have surpassed $4 a gallon once more, up from $3.92 a month ago, according to motorist advocacy group AAA. Kevin Warsh, the newly-appointed chair of the US Federal Reserve, last week told Congress that the central bank had "no tolerance to persistently elevated inflation". US President Donald Trump had pushed Warsh's predecessor, Jerome Powell, to cut interest rates. Trump has made it clear he expects Warsh to fulfil his demand for reductions in borrowing costs for Americans. But the Fed held US interest rates between 3.5% and 3.75% at Warsh's first meeting last month.

As AI continues to evolve at breakneck speed, and developers warn of models going rogue, Elon Musk says people should simply "enjoy the ride". The boss of SpaceX told The Economist while he remains concerned about risks posed by advancements in AI and robotics, "the most likely outcome is incredible abundance for all". Musk said his "philosophical conclusion" after fearing for AI's threat to humanity was to "look on the bright side". He said progress has come so quickly "even if I wanted to stop it, I couldn't". The interview was recorded the day before OpenAI's revelation on Tuesday that some of its most advanced AI models hacked a start-up after it lost control of them during a security test. It sparked concerns about AI systems falling out of alignment with human values, though some have pointed out OpenAI - which is seeking to float on the stock market - has an interest in talking up the power of its tools. The Economist's editor-in-chief Zanny Minton Beddoes questioned Musk on a range of topics, from whether he believed big tech executives should work together to tackle AI safety risks to why he intervenes in European politics. With the rise of rivals like OpenAI and Anthropic, Musk said: "It just to take her on a tour of the country. Asked when he had last visited the UK, Musk said "a few years ago". The trillionaire was also asked about his sharing of a film on X reportedly banned in Germany for its violence and anti-migrant message. "My partner is she's half Indian, and I have four children with her," Musk said of his partner Shweta Zillman, an executive at his brain tech firm Neuralink. "One of them was named after a famous Indian physicist, so I would say I'm not racist." Musk also said there were "senior executives of all races" at his companies, adding: "I don't think there's any racism there". But when pressed on whether he was "anti-Muslim", he was less defiant. "If people are coming to a country with antithetical views, I am against that," he said. "I'm against rape and murder, I'm against the imposition of rules and laws that are contrary to what we've come to accept in the West," he continued, criticising the media for not understanding or reflecting this. 'Popular guy' Musk also told The Economist he was well aware he was "loathed" by some. Some polls have sought to measure public opinion of the SpaceX founder, with one YouGov tracker monitoring his favourability in the US and UK on a quarterly basis.

50 Nand Ghars are operational in Andhra Pradesh 36 Nand Ghars are operational in Telangana Nand Ghar now spans across 18 states and 76 districts, reaching over 5 lakh children and 4 lakh women 23 July 2026: another significant step towards building a Viksit Bharat 2047, Nand Ghar, Vedanta's flagship social impact initiative under the Anil Agarwal Foundation, has reached the milestone of 15,000 centres across 18 states and 76 districts in India. The achievement marks a rapid acceleration in the programme's national expansion. After crossing the landmark of 10,000 Nand Ghars in November 2025, the initiative has added another 5,000 centres in just eight months. Over the past year, Nand Ghar has further expanded into newer states of Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Bihar, strengthening India's Anganwadi ecosystem through one of the country's largest public-private partnerships. Speaking on the milestone, Shashi Arora, CEO, Nand Ghar, said: "The development potential of India rests on its children. Guided by our Chairman Mr. Anil Agarwal's vision of transforming India's Aneanwadis into modern centres of excellence for nutrition, education and women empowerment, we are proud to have reached the milestone of 15,000 Nand Ghar centres across 18 states. Every new Nand Ghar is an investment in India's future, ensuring that children receive quality nutrition, early learning and healthcare, while women gain opportunities to become financially independent. This milestone strengthens our resolve to work alongside governments, communities and partners to build a healthier, more empowered India." Each Nand Ghar is a modern, technology-enabled Anganwadi offering integrated services in early childhood education, nutrition, primary healthcare, clean water, sanitation and women's skill development. The initiative closely aligns with the Government of India's vision under Poshan Anganwadi and POSHAN 2.0, complementing national efforts to improve child development, nutrition and women's empowerment. The programme's impact is reflected in stories like that of Anju Dubey, an Anganwadi Worker at the Nand Ghar in Khojwa, Uttar Pradesh. Through interactive tech-ing, personalised attention and strong community engagement, she has helped transform the centre into a vibrant learning space, enabling children like Tanveer to gain confidence while encouraging families to actively participate, demonstrating how committed frontline workers bring the Nand Ghar model to life. The programme's rapid expansion has been driven by close collaboration with central and state governments, district administrations, Anganwadi workers and local communities. By upgrading existing Anganwadi centres into modern Nand Ghars, the initiative is strengthening grassroots service delivery while responding to the unique needs of every community it serves. With 15,000 centres now operational, Nand Ghar will continue its momentum towards expanding access to quality nutrition, education, healthcare and livelihood opportunities for millions more women and children across rural India.

About Nand Ghar Nand Ghar, a flagship project under the Anil Agarwal Foundation, is modernising India's Anganwadi ecosystem to empower women and children

Google parent Alphabet saw its business continue to grow in recent months, but growing spending on artificial intelligence (AI) infrastructure put its left margin cash into negative territory. The company's free cash flow, the cash it maintained after paying for operations and investments, came in at negative $5.9bn (4.3% for the first time in at least a decade, according to its last financial records. Alphabet's spending on AI is now expected to hit as much as $205bn this year, an increase from $190bn, as major tech companies move to build around a new wave of the technology. Meanwhile, Alphabet's combined quarterly revenue hit $119.8bn, up 23% compared with the same time last year. But the company's stock fell 4% in after-hours trading. Anatoly Shkhanazov, Google's chief financial officer, noted on a call with financial analysts that the company had shown negative free cash flow due to growing capital expenditures.

early innings in a shift across multiple areas" and that the company's plans around generating financial returns on its spending were "disciplined". "What I see with what you can do with frontier capabilities, there is still a lot of work left to do to translate that into experiences for our users. So that looks like extraordinary opportunities with extraordinary returns," Rachel Winter, a partner at the wealth management firm Killik & Co, said there was a bit of surprise among investors about how much Google was spending. "They said that this year the total they will spend will be between $195bn and $205bn. So these are huge numbers. And I think the fact that the shares dropped about 3.5% in after-hours trading when the results came out, that suggests there is a little bit of concern about those levels." Tesla, the electric vehicle company controlled by Elon Musk, also reported negative free cash flow on Wednesday of $1.1bn for the second quarter due to its own increasing investment costs. It was the company's first negative showing of leftover cash in two years, according to its financial records.

Vaibhav Taneja, Tesla's chief financial officer, said during a call with analysts that the company will spend as much as $25bn this year, more than double its capital spending in 2025. He added that Tesla was in "a big investment cycle" and that its spending would probably increase further over the next three years. Tesla's stock also dropped by 4% in after-hours trading.

COMMONWEALTH GAMES 2026:

How Boxer Lovlina Borgohain Opened India's Medal Account, Even Before Opening Ceremony

The Commonwealth Games 2026 are yet to begin, but India have already secured their first medal even before the opening ceremony. The 23rd edition of the Games, being held in Glasgow, Scotland, has seen boxer Lovlina Borgohain advance to the semifinals of the women's 75kg category. The Olympic medalist from Assam has booked a podium finish without stepping into the ring after receiving a direct bye to the last four in her weight division. Under Commonwealth Games boxing rules, all losing semifinalists are awarded bronze medals, guaranteeing Lovlina at least a bronze medal before her opening bout in Glasgow. Borgohain, competing in the women's 75kg middleweight category, earned a direct passage to the semifinals after receiving a bye in a field of just five boxers. With only five athletes in the draw, three competitors, including Borgohain, advanced straight to the last four, while the remaining two were scheduled to contest the lone quarterfinal match. What's next for Lovlina? Lovlina will kick off her campaign on July 31 against Taafaki in the semifinals, with a spot in the gold medal bout at stake. A win would propel the Indian boxer into the final and guarantee her at least a silver medal, while a loss would still see her leave Glasgow with the bronze medal. India on Day 1 India will officially kick off its Commonwealth Games campaign in Glasgow on Thursday, with a 124-member contingent aiming to make the most of a drastically reduced competition programme. India's campaign gets underway with two lawn bowls matches on the schedule. The fixtures will mark the opening assignments for the Indian contingent at Glasgow 2026, with the quadrennial event officially set to begin later in the day with the opening ceremony.

India Para-Cyclist In 'Emotional Distress' Ahead Of Commonwealth Games 2026, Takes Big Step

India's lone Commonwealth Games para-cycling representative, 16-year-old Lisha Das, has written to top sports officials expressing "emotional distress" over unconfirmed support staff and travel arrangements to Glasgow. Das has written to officials of the Indian Olympic Association (IOA), Cycling Federation of India (CFI), Paralympic Committee of India (PCI) and the Sports Ministry. The Commonwealth Games opening ceremony will take place on Thursday night. Lisha said the developments over the past few days have left her under immense mental pressure as she continues to seek approval for the support team she needs - personal coach Aditya Mehta, female physiotherapist Dr Asha Shaikh and an experienced para-cycling technician. While Shaikh's travel was cleared after repeated requests and court intervention, there is no clarity about Mehta's travel and accreditation. Instead, authorities have proposed K. Dattatraya as a technician/coach, despite his earlier rejection as a member of Lisha's support team.

VAIBHAV SOORYAVANSHI SIZZLES AS INDIA FINALLY OPEN ACCOUNT IN SHREYAS IYER-ERA

Wonderkid Vaibhav Sooryavanshi smashed an 18-ball half century in his first innings of substance in international cricket as an all-round India outplayed Zimbabwe by seven wickets in the first T20I of the three match series in Harare on Thursday. Pacer Mayank Yadav made a successful return to international cricket as India restricted Zimbabwe to 125 for seven. India expectedly gunned down the target in 13.2 overs following a typical knock from Sooryavanshi (50 off 19) that included four boundaries and as many sixes. It was also India's first win under new captain Shreyas Iyer, who endured a run of six losses in his first assignment in Ireland and England. Sooryavanshi's much hyped international debut in England earlier this month did not go as per the script but made his familiarity with the venue count. In his return to the ground where he made a memorable 80-ball 175 in the U-19 World Cup final earlier this year, the youngest to play for India displayed his rare talent that has been acknowledged by the crick-eting world. While Abhishek Sharma (1 off 8) struggled at the other end, Sooryavanshi took down the Zimbabwe attack bit by bit. He began with couple of breathtaking sixes off Richard Ngarava in the second over of the chase. The first one was a one legged pull shot that sailed over deep square leg before he made a slight room to nonchalantly a dispatch a decent length ball over mid-off. Blessing Muzarabani, who did not allow Sooryavanshi to free his arm initially, was also taken to the cleaners in fifth over when the 15-year-old smoked a 90m six down the ground. He brought his fifty right after powerplay and a ball later he was caught at third man off Ngarava. Following his dismissal, Ishan Kishan (35 off 24) and captain Shreyas Iyer (28 not out off 24) got the job done comfortably. Earlier, Mayank Yadav cranked up serious pace from the get go in his first game for India since October 2024. He had opener Brian Bennett (0) caught behind off a peach the very first ball of the match, beating the batter with a hard length ball that straightened slightly to take the outside edge. The on-field umpire did not hear the nick but a confident India got the decision in their favour via DRS. ABHINAV BINDRA HITS BULLSEYE AMID NEET PAPER LEAK PROTESTS

As students continue to raise their voices in the national capital, demanding the resignation of Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan, a familiar voice from the sporting world has hit the nail on the head. Olympic gold medalist Abhinav Bindra, who is one of the most respected sporting figures in the country, shared a hard-hitting post on social media highlighting why the current issue concerns not just students, but everyone in the country. Bindra, who is not one to meddle in political issues, shared his honest perspective on the topic as enraged students continue to demand the removal of the Education Minister over the NEET paper leak and student suicides. The shooting legend stressed the need to create an education system that rewards merit and nurtures curiosity, as these traits are essential to propel the country further on the path to development.

For him, that is the clear way forward for India's education system. "I have never considered myself a political person. But I do believe that some issues belong to all of us, regardless of where we stand. Education is one of them. The measure of a nation is found not only in its economy or its achievements, but in the opportunities it creates for its young people," he wrote on X (formerly Twitter). "An education system that inspires confidence, rewards merit and nurtures curiosity is one of a nation's greatest strengths.

How lightbulb moment in Hazard's apartment helped Sheeraz

There was a particular moment that sparked Hamzah Sheeraz's boxing career into life. As an apprentice electrician who stepped away from the sport after missing out on the Commonwealth Youth championships, Briton Sheeraz found himself fixing bulbs and sockets in former Chelsea winger Eden Hazard's apartment. Feeling inspired standing in the middle of the flashy London accommodation, Sheeraz, 27, was back in the gym within two weeks and was signed with Frank Warren's Queensberry on his 18th birthday. After winning the WBO super-middleweight title in May, Sheeraz is gearing up for a first defence against Simon Zachenhuber on Anthony Joshua's undercard on Saturday in Saudi Arabia. But first, Sheeraz reminisces on the lightbulb moment a decade ago. "I was working in Eden Hazard's apartment fixing his bulbs and sockets and my ego or goals and aspirations kicked in, so I went back to the gym," Sheeraz told BBC Sport. "There was nothing lined up for me. It wasn't like I had such a good amateur career and it was going to kick off. I just wanted to go back to the gym and see what happened. "After two weeks, I was asked to be a sparring partner for some professionals at the time and I did well. I hung in there and they asked me to go over to Spain to do some camps with them. "They were signed with Frank Warren at the time and by word of mouth, they trusted my coach at the time, Dominic Negus, to be signed to Frank. "I didn't meet him for the first two or three years. I remember when I first met him, I thought it was crazy. Here we are today." Sheeraz eyes fight with 'Idol' Canelo Alvarez's crowning moment came in a one-sided second-round stoppage win over Alem Begic in May as he captured his first world title. But the hunger from the undefeated fighter hasn't wavered. A fight with Saul 'Canelo' Alvarez is the dream for almost every boxer and Sheeraz is no different. The Mexican is regarded as one of the all-time greats in boxing after achieving world champion status in four weight divisions - and Sheeraz is keen on testing himself against one of his idols. "I'd love it. A lot of people hear me say it," said Sheeraz, whose record sits at 23-0-1. "I'm under no illusion that he chooses who he fights because he's earned the right, let's be honest. Props to him. "It'd be a pinch-me moment if I got to fight him. I've been watching this guy since I was a kid, trying to learn from him and now you get the opportunity to fight him.
