INDIA Bloc leaders march to Gandhi Smriti to support students; Rahul's residence barricaded

New Delhi (TSIT) : Amid the continuing standoff over the NEET paper leak and police action against protesting students, Leader of Opposition in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi on Thursday led MPs and leaders of the INDIA bloc towards Gandhi Smriti, saying the march is to honour students who allegedly died by suicide after the paper leak and to express solidarity with those injured during protests. Newspaper Archives Access

Before leaving for Gandhi Smriti on Tees January Marg, Rahul said the Opposition was marching peacefully to remember the students "we lost" after the NEET paper leak and to stand with those who were allegedly beaten while seeking justice and accountability.

Maintaining that the country's students were not alone, Rahul said the entire INDIA alliance stood firmly with them and supported their demands.

Rahul Gandhi said the students were protesting on the streets and that all INDIA bloc MPs wanted to stand in solidarity with them. He said they had planned to march to India Gate but were denied permission, following which they decided to proceed towards Tees January Marg. The development came as Delhi Police put up barricades outside Rahul Gandhi's residence, where Congress workers gathered in large numbers. Several Opposition leaders had assembled at the residence around 6 pm before the march to Gandhi Smriti.

The MPs travelling on the bus include John Brittas (CPI(M)), K C Venugopal (Congress), Manoj Kumar Jha (RJD), Priyanka Gandhi Vadra (Congress), Misa Bharti (RJD), Pramod Tiwari (Congress), and Amrinder Singh Raja Warring (Congress), among others. The protest is part of the Opposition's intensified campaign against the Centre over the alleged irregularities in the NEET examination and the police action on student protesters, an issue that has repeatedly disrupted Parliament during the ongoing Monsoon Session.

K'ka CM backs NEET protests, says issue is about students

Bengaluru (TSIT) :

Karnataka Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar on Thursday voiced support for student protests over the alleged NEET question paper leak controversy, stating that the issue transcends politics and concerns the future of the country's youth.

Addressing reporters in Bengaluru, Shivakumar said India is at a critical juncture, and students are facing uncertainty amid repeated allegations of examination paper leaks. He remarked that the Prime Minister had spoken on the issue but should have addressed it earlier.

"Today, the country is at a crossroads. Students and youngsters are in a dilemma. There have been more than 100 instances of question paper leaks. The Prime Minister has spoken on the issue today, but he should have spoken at the very beginning," he said.

Emphasising that the matter should not be politicised, the Chief Minister said India's students are globally recognised for their talent and serve as ambassadors of the nation. He added that every government has a duty to ensure transparent examinations and provide quality education.

Responding to demands for Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan's resignation, Shivakumar said there should be no attempt to shield anyone. "There is no question of safeguarding anyone."

CJP protest: SC lawyers recite Preamble of Constitution; express solidarity with students

A group of lawyers led by Supreme Court Bar Association (SCBA) President Vikas Singh, several senior advocates Indra Jaising and S Muralidhar on Thursday recited the Preamble of the Constitution as part of their "Save Democracy, Save Constitution" campaign to express solidarity with students protesting at Jantar Mantar here.

Those who participated in the Preamble recitation included senior advocates Anand Grover, Anjana Prakash, Sanjay Ghose, Arundhati Katju, Mahalakshmi Pavani, Nandita Rao, P.V. Surendranath, Manali Singhal and Sangeetha Bharti, PV Dinesh, Shadan Farasat, Jayant Thakur, and several other members of the Bar.

The advocates gathered at the Supreme Court lawns and collectively recited the Preamble as part of the "Save Democracy, Save Constitution" campaign, against the backdrop of the student protests and alleged policy brutalities.

The lawyers—many of them carrying Indian National Flags and copies of the Constitution—gathered during the lunch recess and read aloud the Preamble, reaffirming the constitutional values of justice, liberty, equality and fraternity. WorldNews Coverage "It was a collection to show solidarity with the student protesters who were badly beaten up by the Delhi Police without any provocation," Singh said. "We are here to stand with the students. We are here to stand on the side of justice. We are here to demand justice for the students. We are not here to agitate for ourselves. This is not about us. This concerns the rights of students, and it is the duty of lawyers to stand before the Supreme Court and demand justice for them. The role and function of the Supreme Court of India is to dispense justice. That is why we are here, in the temple of justice, with our demands," Jaising said.

Premium petrol ethanol-free, no E0 or E10 revival plan: govt

New Delhi (TSIT):

Premium grades of petrol sold by state-run fuel retailers will continue to be supplied without ethanol blending, the government said on Thursday, July 23, adding that it has not taken any decision to increase ethanol blending in petrol beyond 20 per cent and there is no proposal to restore the supply of E0 or E10 petrol. Premium petrol grades - Indian Oil Corp's XP100, Hindustan Petroleum's poWer100 and Bharat Petroleum's Speed100 - are not blended with ethanol because they are niche fuels containing specialised performance-enhancing additives and account for only 0.5 per cent of total petrol sales.

Opposition's goal is political, not students' interests: Shivraj Singh Chouhan

New Delhi (TSIT) :

Union Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan on Thursday welcomed the setting up of fast-track courts for paper leak cases and denounced the Opposition's 'posturing' as the well-wishers of students, claiming that their main agenda was deriving political gain and not safeguarding students' interests. He accused the Opposition parties of 'exploiting' the issue concerning lakhs of students for their own political gains, rather than safeguarding students' interests and future.

The Union Minister also blasted the Opposition for stalling Parliamentary proceedings. He said that the government was ready for comprehensive discussion on issues pertaining to aspirations of youth, but the Opposition was continuously changing its stance and shifting the goalpost to derail it. Many other MPs also came down on the INDIA bloc, blaming it for disruptive tactics in Parliament and misleading the students with 'manufactured' anger.

Awareness on Reproductive Health is Essential: Dr. Radhika Potluri

Visakhapatnam (TSIT): Delaying marriage and pregnancy unnecessarily can increase the risk of fertility-related problems, and young couples should plan their families at the appropriate age, said Dr. Radhika Potluri, Fertility Specialist at Oasis Fertility. Addressing a media interaction held as part of the 'Janani Dialogues' initiative at the Oasis Fertility Centre in S i r i p u r a m , Visakhapatnam, on Thursday, Dr. Potluri said the campaign is being conducted across 30 cities in India to create awareness about the country's declining Total Fertility Rate (TFR), delayed marriages, and late pregnancies. She noted that India's TFR has fallen below 1.9, with many individuals choosing to marry after the age of 30 and planning pregnancy only after 35 due to career aspirations and financial priorities. Such delays, she explained, reduce the chances of natural conception and increase the risk of miscarriages and pregnancy-related complications. Dr. Potluri advised couples to plan pregnancy, wherever possible, during their late 20s or early 30s. She also highlighted fertility preservation options such as egg freezing and sperm freezing for those who need to postpone parenthood for personal or professional reasons.

Chandrababu Naidu on Thursday launched the "Mee Bhoomi-Blockchain" pilot project, aimed at creating tamper-proof land records and reducing land disputes across the state. The initiative is part of the government's efforts to make Andhra Pradesh a land litigation-free state.

The blockchain-based system integrates the Revenue, Survey and Registration departments on a single platform, assigns a unique digital ID to every land parcel, and ensures secure, transparent and tamper-proof land transactions. It is also designed to prevent duplicate registrations and improve the accuracy and security of land records.

The pilot project is being implemented in seven mandals across seven districts, covering 89 re-survey villages and more than 1.37 lakh land parcels. Chief Minister Chandrababu Naidu directed officials to closely monitor the project for two months, identify and rectify any shortcomings, and roll out the blockchain-based land records system across Andhra Pradesh from November 2026. He said the initiative would provide permanent security to land records and help resolve long-pending land-related disputes.

Technology-driven, people-friendly policing vital: CM Naidu

Visakhapatnam, July 23 (TSIT): Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister N. Chandrababu Naidu on Thursday called for a technology-driven and people-friendly policing system, stressing the need to modernise law enforcement to effectively tackle emerging crimes.

Addressing senior IPS officers at the AP Police Retreat 2026 – Future Policing Conference, the Chief Minister said the nature of crime has changed significantly, making it essential to strengthen policing through advanced technology, improved infrastructure and institutional reforms.

He emphasised the need for visible policing, stronger action against cybercrime, crimes against women and drug abuse, while ensuring that police remain friendly towards the public and uncompromising with criminals. Highlighting the role of technology in crime detection, Naidu cited the successful recovery of the stolen Anjaneya Swamy idol from the Tirumala footpath as an example of effective technology-enabled policing. The Chief Minister also underlined the importance of prompt police action to curb misinformation and maintain public confidence. He called for strengthening forensic science facilities and dog squad units, enhancing public awareness on the dangers of drug abuse and ensuring efficient law enforcement to safeguard peace and public safety.

OIL PRICES HIT $100 FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE MAY

Oil prices hit $100 a barrel for the first time since May as the escalating conflict in the Middle East reignited fears over global energy supplies. Brent crude - the global benchmark for oil prices - rose more than 6% on Thursday following several days of increases as the US stepped up military strikes against Iran. Prices spiked after Houthi militia in Yemen attacked oil tankers in the Red Sea, threatening a key export route that Saudi Arabia has used to bypass the Strait of Hormuz. Gas prices have also risen steadily over the past month, with the benchmark UK gas price currently at around 150 per therm, up from around 98p at the end of June. Oil prices had been falling following a temporary ceasefire between the US and Iran. They dropped back to levels last seen before the US and Israel began military action against Iran on 28 February. However, the ceasefire has failed and this week US Secretary of State Marco Rubio said the people in charge in Iran were "not ready to make a deal". The ongoing conflict risks pushing up inflation for many countries, including UK and the US leading to higher prices for consumers. Higher oil prices typically lead to petrol and diesel becoming more expensive. While drivers are affected directly, households could also see prices of other goods, such as food, increase due to businesses passing on higher transportation costs to customers. Inflation rates have fallen in the UK and US, but questions remain whether the the slow down will prove short-lived due to the renewed conflict in the Middle East. UK petrol prices have risen by 5p a litre in the space of two-and-a-half weeks to hit almost £1.56. Diesel is at £1.72 a litre, on average, according to the RAC. Average gasoline prices in the US have surpassed $4 a gallon once more, up from $3.92 a month ago, according to motorist advocacy

US President Donald Trump had pushed Warsh's predecessor, Jerome Powell, to cut interest rates. Trump has made it clear he expects Warsh to fulfil his demand for reductions in borrowing costs for Americans. But the Fed held US interest rates between 3.5% and 3.75% at Warsh's first meeting last month.

'LET'S ENJOY THE RIDE' SAYS ELON MUSK, AS AI FEARS MOUNT

As AI continues to evolve at breakneck speed, and developers warn of models going rogue, Elon Musk says people should simply "enjoy the ride". The boss of SpaceX told The Economist while he remains concerned about risks posed by advancements in AI and robotics, "the most likely outcome is incredible abundance for all". Musk said his "philosophical conclusion" after fearing for AI's threat to humanity was to "look on the bright side". He said progress has come so quickly "even if I wanted to stop it, I couldn't". The interview was recorded the day before OpenAI's revelation on Tuesday that some of its most advanced AI models hacked a start-up after it lost control of them during a security test. It sparked concerns about AI systems falling out of alignment with human values, though some have pointed out OpenAI - which is seeking to float on the stock market - has an interest in talking up the power of its tools. The Economist's editor-in-chief Zanny Minton Beddoes questioned Musk on a range of topics, from whether he believed big tech executives should work together to tackle AI safety risks to why he intervenes in European politics. With the rise of rivals like OpenAI and Anthropic, Musk said: "It just seems like all roads lead to acceleration of AI... you can just sort of be sad about it or join the club, I suppose." In a wide-ranging interview, the entrepreneur also made typically outlandish predictions, such as claiming "money won't matter" in a decade. He also pushed back on suggestions he supports "far right" views. Minton Beddoes said both data and her own experience of living in the UK told a different story to the image portrayed by the trillionaire in his X posts. "You come see my country that I live in all the time," she said when Musk offered to take her on a tour of the country. Asked when he had last visited the UK, Musk said "a few years ago". The trillionaire was also asked about his sharing of a film on X reportedly banned in Germany for its violence and anti-migrant message. "My partner is... she's half Indian, and I have four children with her," Musk said of his partner Shvoun Zillis, an executive at his brain tech firm Neuralink. "One of them was named after a famous Indian physicist, so I would say I'm not racist." Musk also said there were "senior executives of all races" at his companies, adding: "I don't think there's any racism there". But when pressed on whether he was "anti-Muslim", he was less defiant. "If people are coming to a country with antithetical views, I am against that," he said. "I'm against rape and murder, I'm against the imposition of rules and laws that are contrary to what we've come to accept in the West," he continued, criticising the media for not understanding or reflecting this. 'Popular guy' Musk also told The Economist he was well aware he was "loathed" by some. Some polls have sought to measure public opinion of the SpaceX founder, with one YouGov tracker monitoring his favourability in the US and UK on a quarterly basis.

15,000 AND GROWING: VEDANTA'S NAND GHAR EXPANDS ITS NATIONWIDE REACH

50 Nand Ghars are operational in Andhra Pradesh 36 Nand Ghars are operational in Telangana Nand Ghar now spans across 18 states and 76 districts, reaching over 5 lakh children and 4 lakh women 23 July 2026: In another significant step towards building a Viksit Bharat 2047, Nand Ghar, Vedanta's flagship social impact initiative under the Anil Agarwal Foundation, has reached the milestone of 15,000 centres across 18 states and 76 districts in India. The achievement marks a rapid acceleration in the programme's national expansion. After crossing the landmark of 10,000 Nand Ghars in November 2025, the initiative has added another 5,000 centres in just eight months. Over the past year, Nand Ghar has further expanded into newer states of Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Bihar, strengthening India's Anganwadi ecosystem through one of the country's largest public-private partnerships. Speaking on the milestone, Shashi Arora, CEO, Nand Ghar, said: "The development potential of India rests on its children. Guided by our Chairman Mr. Anil Agarwal's vision of transforming India's Anganwadis into modern centres of excellence for nutrition, education and women empowerment, we are proud to have reached the milestone of 15,000 Nand Ghar centres across 18 states. Every new Nand Ghar is an investment in India's future, ensuring that children receive quality nutrition, early learning and healthcare, while women gain opportunities to become financially independent. This milestone strengthens our resolve to work alongside governments, communities and partners to build a healthier, more empowered India." Each Nand Ghar is a modern, technology-enabled Anganwadi offering integrated services in early childhood education, nutrition, primary healthcare, clean water, sanitation and women's skill development. The initiative closely aligns with the Government of India's vision under Saksham Anganwadi and POSHAN 2.0, complementing national efforts to improve child development, nutrition and women's empowerment. The programme's impact is reflected in stories like that of Anju Dubey, an Anganwadi Worker at the Nand Ghar in Khojwa, Uttar Pradesh. Through interactive teaching, personalised attention and strong community engagement, she has helped transform the centre into a vibrant learning space, enabling children like Tanveer to gain confidence while encouraging families to actively participate, demonstrating how committed frontline workers bring the Nand Ghar model to life. The programme's rapid expansion has been driven by close collaboration with central and state governments, district administrations, Anganwadi workers and local communities. By upgrading existing Anganwadi centres into modern Nand Ghars, the initiative is strengthening grassroots service delivery while responding to the unique needs of every community it serves. With 15,000 centres now operational, Nand Ghar will continue its momentum towards expanding access to quality nutrition, education, healthcare and livelihood opportunities for millions more women and children across rural India. About Nand Ghar Nand Ghar, a flagship project under the Anil Agarwal Foundation, is modernising India's Anganwadi ecosystem to empower women and children.

GOOGLE BURNING THROUGH CASH WITH SPIRALLING AI COSTS

Google parent Alphabet saw its business continue to grow in recent months, yet growing spending on artificial intelligence (AI) infrastructure put its left-over cash into negative territory. The company's free cash flow, the cash it maintained after paying for operations and investments, came in at negative $5.9bn (£4.3bn) for the first time in at least a decade, according to its past financial records. Alphabet's spending on AI is now expected to hit as much as $205bn this year, an increase from $190bn, as major tech companies race to build around a new wave of the technology. Meanwhile, Alphabet's combined quarterly revenue hit $119.8bn, up 23% compared with the same time last year. But the company's stock fell 4% in after-hours trading. Anat Ashkanazi, Google's chief financial officer, noted on a call with financial analysts that the company had shown negative free cash flow due to growing capital expenditures, essentially all of which was related to AI spending. She said the company spent $45bn in the second quarter, with 60% of the cost going towards servers and the remaining 40% going towards data centres. Alphabet's capital spending was $36bn in the first quarter of this year. Ashkanazi said on the call that when it comes to AI, "the demand still outpaces that investment". "As long as we see these attractive opportunities to invest, we will continue to invest." Sundar Pichai, Google's chief executive, said that the technological shift to AI tools and capabilities still "feels like early innings in a shift across multiple areas" and that the company's plans around generating financial returns on its spending were "disciplined". "What I see with what you can do with frontier capabilities, there is still a lot of work left to do to translate that into experiences for our users. So that looks like extraordinary opportunities with extraordinary returns." Rachel Winter, a partner at the wealth management firm Killik & Co, said there was a bit of surprise among investors about how much Google was spending. "They said that this year the total they will spend will be between $195bn and $205bn. So these are huge numbers. And I think the fact that the shares dropped about 3.5% in after-hours trading when the results came out, that suggests there is a little bit of concern about those levels." Tesla, the electric vehicle company controlled by Elon Musk, also reported negative free cash flow on Wednesday of $1.1bn for the second quarter due to its own increasing investment costs. It was the company's first negative showing of leftover cash in two years, according to its financial records. Vaibhav Taneja, Tesla's chief financial officer, said during a call with analysts that the company will spend as much as $25bn this year, more than double its capital spending in 2025. He added that Tesla was in "a big investment cycle" and that its spending would probably increase further over the next three years. Tesla's stock also dropped by 4% in after-hours trading.

COMMONWEALTH GAMES 2026:

How Boxer Lovlina Borgohain Opened India's Medal Account, Even Before Opening Ceremony

The Commonwealth Games 2026 are yet to begin, but India have already secured their first medal even before the opening ceremony. The 23rd edition of the Games, being held in Glasgow, Scotland, has seen boxer Lovlina Borgohain advance to the semifinals of the women's 75kg category. The Olympic medalist from Assam has booked a podium finish without stepping into the ring after receiving a direct bye to the last four in her weight division. Under Commonwealth Games boxing rules, all losing semifinalists are awarded bronze medals, guaranteeing Lovlina at least a bronze medal before her opening bout in Glasgow. Borgohain, competing in the women's 75kg middleweight category, earned a direct passage to the semifinals after receiving a bye in a field of just five boxers. With only five athletes in the draw, three competitors, including Borgohain, advanced straight to the last four, while the remaining two were scheduled to contest the lone quarterfinal match. What's next for Lovlina? Lovlina will kick off her campaign on July 31 against Taafaki in the semifinals, with a spot in the gold medal bout at stake. A win would propel the Indian boxer into the final and guarantee her at least a silver medal, while a loss would still see her leave Glasgow with the bronze medal. India on Day 1 India will officially kick off its Commonwealth Games campaign in Glasgow on Thursday, with a 124-member contingent aiming to make the most of a drastically reduced competition programme. India's campaign gets underway with two lawn bowls matches on the schedule. The fixtures will mark the opening assignments for the Indian contingent at Glasgow 2026, with the quadrennial event officially set to begin later in the day with the opening ceremony.

India Para-Cyclist In 'Emotional Distress' Ahead Of Commonwealth Games 2026, Takes Big Step

India's lone Commonwealth Games para-cycling representative, 16-year-old Lisha Das, has written to top sports officials expressing "emotional distress" over unconfirmed support staff and travel arrangements to Glasgow. Das has written to officials of the Indian Olympic Association (IOA), Cycling Federation of India (CFI), Paralympic Committee of India (PCI) and the Sports Ministry. The Commonwealth Games opening ceremony will take place on Thursday night. Lisha said the developments over the past few days have left her under immense mental pressure as she continues to seek approval for the support team she needs - personal coach Aditya Mehta, female physiotherapist Dr Asha Shaikh and an experienced para-cycling technician. While Shaikh's travel was cleared after repeated requests and court intervention, there is no clarity about Mehta's travel and accreditation. Instead, authorities have proposed K. Dattatraya as a technician/coach, despite his earlier rejection as a member of Lisha's support team.

Petition To Ban Argentina From FIFA World Cup Nearly Breaks Guinness World Record

Argentina wasn't the team that won over fans by playing beautiful football in the FIFA World Cup 2026. The Lionel Messi-led team did reach the final of the tournament, but en route came plenty of controversies, as well as allegations that FIFA favoured the South Americans. A petition to exclude Argentina from the World Cup was in full swing even before the final, where a heated altercation between players after the referee's full-time whistle further damaged the team's reputation. Before being closed, the petition garnered a mind-boggling total of over 23 million digital signatures, nearly breaking the Guinness World Record. Argentina finished the tournament as arguably the most 'hated team' ever to have participated. Leandro Paredes' post-match actions-including, but not limited to, punching Spanish defender Eric Garcia and throwing Gavi to the ground-made Argentina absolute villains. During the match, Enzo Fernandez was sent off for a tackle on Pau Cubarsi, a moment that arguably played a pivotal role in La Albiceleste's defeat. Argentina's actions in the final meant that the petition to have the team permanently banned from the World Cup attracted even more attention. It ended up gathering more than 23 million signatures worldwide, becoming one of the most circulated petitions in history. According to reports published by multiple European outlets, the petition was titled "Argentina Out" and drew 23,316,108 signatures from around 170 countries, far exceeding its original target of 5 million. The petition against Argentina was launched amid allegations of refereeing bias during the tournament. "Why should the rest of the teams play in the tournament if the winner is known in advance? Exclude Argentina from the World Cup and give everyone a fair chance," the text of the petition read. Once Argentina lost the final 0-1 to Spain, the organisers of the petition concluded with the message: "FIFA ignored us, but Spain kept its promise... thank you, Spain." The official record for the most-signed petition belongs to the Jubilee 2000 movement, which gathered 24,319,181 signatures. It is fair to say that had the petition continued for a couple more days, it would have broken the record. The Italian soccer federation (FIGC) has talked to former Manchester City coach Pep Guardiola and Brazil boss Carlo Ancelotti about taking over the crisis-hit national team. It hopes to announce the new Italy coach within the week, with the Azzurri still reeling after failing for a third straight time to qualify for the World Cup. Former Italy and AC Milan defender Paolo Maldini was named as the federation's new technical director at the start of the month and was present at a meeting with the Serie A clubs on Thursday, along with new FIGC president Giovanni Malago and special advisor Leonardo. "Honestly, today we can't give news about what's happening. You've identified one of our targets," Maldini said when asked about Guardiola in a news conference after the meeting. "We can't hide that we also talked with Carlo Ancelotti before talking with Pep. Honestly, it seemed right to start with the best in the world, to see their general availability." Guardiola left Man City at the end of last season, bringing to a close a trophy-laden, 10-year spell in which he established City as a force in Europe and changed the face of English soccer.

VAIBHAV SOORYAVANSHI SIZZLES AS INDIA FINALLY OPEN ACCOUNT IN SHREYAS IYER-ERA

Wonderkid Vaibhav Sooryavanshi smashed an 18-ball half century in his first innings of substance in international cricket as an all-round India outplayed Zimbabwe by seven wickets in the first T20I of the three match series in Harare on Thursday. Pacer Mayank Yadav made a successful return to international cricket as India restricted Zimbabwe to 125 for seven. India expectedly gunned down the target in 13.2 overs following a typical knock from Sooryavanshi (50 off 19) that included four boundaries and as many sixes. It was also India's first win under new captain Shreyas Iyer, who endured a run of six losses in his first assignment in Ireland and England. Sooryavanshi's much hyped international debut in England earlier this month did not go as per the script but made his familiarity with the venue count. In his return to the ground where he made a memorable 80-ball 175 in the U-19 World Cup final earlier this year, the youngest to play for India displayed his rare talent that has been acknowledged by the crick-eting world. While Abhishek Sharma (1 off 8) struggled at the other end, Sooryavanshi took down the Zimbabwe attack bit by bit. He began with couple of breathtaking sixes off Richard Ngarava in the second over of the chase. The first one was a one legged pull shot that sailed over deep square leg before he made a slight room to nonchalantly a dispatch a decent length ball over mid-off. Blessing Muzarabani, who did not allow Sooryavanshi to free his arm initially, was also taken to the cleaners in fifth over when the 15-year-old smoked a 90m six down the ground. He brought his fifty right after powerplay and a ball later he was caught at third man off Ngarava. Following his dismissal, Ishan Kishan (35 off 24) and captain Shreyas Iyer (28 not out off 24) got the job done comfortably. Earlier, Mayank Yadav cranked up serious pace from the get go in his first game for India since October 2024. He had opener Brian Bennett (0) caught behind off a peach the very first ball of the match, beating the batter with a hard length ball that straightened slightly to take the outside edge. The on-field umpire did not hear the nick but a confident India got the decision in their favour via DRS. Mayank, who had a surgery last year following a stress fracture, consistently hit speeds beyond 145 kmph.

"SOME ISSUES BELONG TO ALL OF US":

ABHINAV BINDRA HITS BULLSEYE AMID NEET PAPER LEAK PROTESTS

As students continue to raise their voices in the national capital, demanding the resignation of Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan, a familiar voice from the sporting world has hit the nail on the head. Olympic gold medalist Abhinav Bindra, who is one of the most respected sporting figures in the country, shared a hard-hitting post on social media highlighting why the current issue concerns not just students, but everyone in the country. Bindra, who is not one to meddle in political issues, shared his honest perspective on the topic as enraged students continue to demand the removal of the Education Minister over the NEET paper leak and student suicides. The shooting legend stressed the need to create an education system that rewards merit and nurtures curiosity, as these traits are essential to propel the country further on the path to development.

For him, that is the clear way forward for India's education system. "I have never considered myself a political person. But I do believe that some issues belong to all of us, regardless of where we stand. Education is one of them. The measure of a nation is found not only in its economy or its achievements, but in the opportunities it creates for its young people," he wrote on X (formerly Twitter). "An education system that inspires confidence, rewards merit and nurtures curiosity is one of a nation's greatest strengths.

Asian Games 2026: India Men's, Women's Kabaddi Teams Placed In Group A

India's men's and women's kabaddi teams have been placed in Group A for their respective events at the forthcoming Asian Games 2026 in Aichi-Nagoya, Japan, with the group-stage draws confirmed on Thursday. The Asian Games 2026 are scheduled to take place in Japan's Aichi prefecture from September 19 to

October 4, with the kabaddi competitions set to be held at the Tokai Citizens Gymnasium from September 21 to 26. A total of 10 teams will compete for the men's kabaddi title, with the sides divided into two groups of five. The women's tournament will see eight teams divided into two groups of four, according to Olympics.com. The Indian men's team will compete against Bangladesh, South Korea, Chinese Taipei and hosts Japan in Group A. Group B comprises Nepal, Thailand, Pakistan, Malaysia and Iran, keeping the two traditional kabaddi powerhouses, India and Iran, apart in the opening stage, according to Olympics.com.

In the women's event, India have been drawn in Group A alongside Iran, Japan and Bangladesh, while Group B features Sri Lanka, Thailand, Chinese Taipei and Nepal. As per the format followed since the 2006 Asian Games, the top two teams from each group at the end of the round-robin stage will advance to the semi-finals.

"We Can Secure 8-10 Medals": India's Weightlifting Coach Eyes Big Haul From Commonwealth Games 2026

India's weightlifting coach Vijay Sharma is hopeful of a strong medal haul at the Commonwealth Games 2026, targeting between eight and 10 medals from the country's 11-member contingent. Speaking about India's medal prospects, Sharma said the team is working hard and is well prepared for the competition. "There's certainly pressure because of the high expectations. However, the team is preparing diligently. With 11 athletes participating, I'm optimistic that we can secure between 8 to 10 medals," Sharma said to ANI. He also said the pleasant weather conditions in Glasgow have helped the athletes, while the team's training camp in Birmingham played an important role in acclimatisation. "The weather is actually quite pleasant. The Birmingham camp really helped the athletes adjust to these conditions. I'm expecting a very strong performance from them," he added. Sharma also praised the support provided by the Sports Authority of India (SAI) and the Target Olympic Podium Scheme (TOPS) during the team's preparations. According to the coach, SAI and TOPS organised a 25-day camp in Birmingham, which helped the athletes acclimatise to the conditions and focus on their training. "SAI and TOPS organised a 25-day camp for us in Birmingham. This has been instrumental in helping the athletes acclimatise and focus on their training. We've seen a significant improvement in their performance due to this camp, and I believe they will do exceptionally well and bring home as many medals as possible," Sharma said. With 11 Indian weightlifters set to compete, the team will look to turn the high expectations into a strong medal haul at the Commonwealth Games 2026.

How lightbulb moment in Hazard's apartment helped Sheeraz

There was a particular moment that sparked Hamzah Sheeraz's boxing career into life. As an apprentice electrician who stepped away from the sport after missing out on the Commonwealth Youth championships, Briton Sheeraz found himself fixing bulbs and sockets in former Chelsea winger Eden Hazard's apartment. Feeling inspired standing in the middle of the flashy London accommodation, Sheeraz, 27, was back in the gym within two weeks and was signed with Frank Warren's Queensberry on his 18th birthday. After winning the WBO super-middleweight title in May, Sheeraz is gearing up for a first defence against Simon Zachenhuber on Anthony Joshua's undercard on Saturday in Saudi Arabia. But first, Sheeraz reminisces on the lightbulb moment a decade ago. "I was working in Eden Hazard's apartment fixing his bulbs and sockets and my ego or goals and aspirations kicked in, so I went back to the gym," Sheeraz told BBC Sport. "There was nothing lined up for me. It wasn't like I had such a good amateur career and it was going to kick off. I just wanted to go back to the gym and see what happened. "After two weeks, I was asked to be a sparring partner for some professionals at the time and I did well. I hung in there and they asked me to go over to Spain to do some camps with them. "They were signed with Frank Warren at the time and by word of mouth, they trusted my coach at the time, Dominic Negus, to be signed to Frank. "I didn't meet him for the first two or three years. I remember when I first met him, I thought it was crazy. Here we are today." Sheeraz eyes fight with 'Idol' Canelo Alvarez's crowning moment came in a one-sided second-round stoppage win over Alem Begic in May as he captured his first world title. But the hunger from the undefeated fighter hasn't wavered. A fight with Saul 'Canelo' Alvarez is the dream for almost every boxer and Sheeraz is no different. The Mexican is regarded as one of the all-time greats in boxing after achieving world champion status in four weight divisions - and Sheeraz is keen on testing himself against one of his idols. "I'd love it. A lot of people hear me say it," said Sheeraz, whose record sits at 23-0-1. "I'm under no illusion that he chooses who he fights because he's earned the right, let's be honest. Props to him. "It'd be a pinch-me moment if I got to fight him. I've been watching this guy since I was a kid, trying to learn from him and now you get the opportunity to fight him.
